

Cotton Men Seek To Find New Uses

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—The National Cotton Council today sought means to finance a program designed to increase consumption of American cotton after organization of the council virtually was completed and delegates had turned their backs of Federal aid.

Oscar Johnston, re-elected chairman of the group, appointed a finance committee and cautioned members that a minimum of $150,000 would be needed to begin operations.

He suggested that if cotton industries contributed one per cent of the gross price of their products to the council, a fund of approximately $7,000,000 would be provided annually.

Organization of the council to get the cotton industry out of the red found five primary interests of the industry united—warehousemen, ginners, producers, crushers and shippers.

Johnston spoke before the group to denounce federal crop control and to declare that if it was not eliminated, ruin faced the industry.

Besides making labor and land idle, he declared that markets thus were opened to "synthetic fibers" which were used in materials once made from cotton. He stressed that the one way to get the industry on its feet was to increase use of the staple.

Dr. Charles K. Everett, head of the new uses section of the cotton textile institute, told the council that rayon production has quadrupled in the last four years. Every pound of rayon displaces one of cotton, he said.

Dr. Everett declared that rayon is being produced in cotton mills and that other substitutes for cotton were appearing. As an example, 200,000,000 paper towels take the place of cotton each year and paper bags are displacing cotton sacks.

Use of cotton in road construction provides one of the best markets of the future, C. T. Revere, New York economist, predicted.

"Cotton in roads would save $100,000,000 annually in building and maintenance costs," he said. He suggested formation of a federal bureau of cotton roads to sponsor a program of 200,000 miles of such highway.

Says Members Of Mob Are Unknown

WIGGINS, Miss.—Wilder McGowan, 24-year-old negro who was lynched by a mob of 200 men, met his death "at the hands of parties unknown," a coroner's jury said today.

The sawmill worker was seized by the Southern Mississippi mob after the 74-year-old mother of a prominent physician told Sheriff H. C. Hinton she had been choked, assaulted and robbed. The attack took place Sunday night near her home where she lived alone.

Hinton formed a posse, set bloodhounds on the trail and began working independently on a clue. Meanwhile the negro was found at the home of his grandmother where he sought refuge. It was said McGowan was "quietly" hanged; Hinton said he was certain there was "no shooting and no disorder in the mob."

The sheriff cut down the body and brought it here for the inquest.

Christmas Seal Sale Burglars Enter Begins November 25 Hamsley Home

Mrs. H. W. Baker, president of Grenada County Tuberculosis Association, announces that the Christmas Seal sale will begin Friday, November 25. Both the Association and the American Red Cross are anxious to make it clear that Christmas Seals are not Red Cross Seals, which accounts for the following statement from the Association:

"Between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, we are asked to support the Red Cross Roll Call, and we believe that Mississippi should and will respond liberally. Appropriately called 'The Greatest Mother,' because of its work of mercy in war and peace, the Red Cross in a very helpful way, 'mothered' the Tuberculosis Association also.

"In 1910, the then youthful Tuberculosis Association formed a partnership with the Red Cross, under which, for 10 years, the Red Cross sold Christmas Seals and turned the proceeds over to the Tuberculosis Association for use in the TB fight.

"Well organized in every state by 1920, the Tuberculosis Association took over the seal sales entirely, and since then there has been no official or other competition with the Red Cross. To prevent confusion, the two organizations, serving humanity in different ways, have agreed that the Roll Call will end at Thanksgiving and that the sale of Christmas Seals will begin the following day."

State Students Are Killed

COLUMBUS, Miss.—Two Mississippi State students were killed yesterday when their car collided with another near here. The dead were George Palmer, 20, Rulerville, Miss., and Henry Duncanson, 20, Biloxi.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAMS BACK FROM HUNTER'S MEET

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Williams returned at noon today from Winchester, Kentucky, where he attended the National Fox Hunt. Mr. Williams was master of the hounds and spent the week there.

The home of W. P. (Bake) Hamsley, on Poplar Street, was entered last night, by a robber or robbers, and money and valuables aggregating $350.00 taken. It was the second time within a few months that his house had been burglarized, Hamsley said.

Indications are that entrance was gained to the house by the use of an ice pick—maybe two picks—or some other sharp pointed instrument. Two small holes had been pierced in the screen above the latch. The screen had been entirely removed from the window and placed on the ground nearby.

The window through which the intruder passed was at the head of the bed on which the Hamsley children slept, and the trunk which was rifled for the more than two hundred dollars in money and valuable jewels, was within arm reach of the children's bed.

The key with which the trunk was unlocked, and left in the trunk, was found by the intruder, although it was kept at a place in the room—near the grate, thought to have been secret.

Papers which were contained in two boxes, holding the money and the other valuables, were left scattered over the floor, and on leaving, the intruder left the window open.

Children who slept close by the window could recall no unusual incident during the night except "we got cold," which was due to the open window.

Hamsley, who slept in an adjoining room said that when he retired the door between his room and the children's was left open.

On waking this morning, the door was closed he said, indicating that the intruder had closed this door to make the work more secretive. Neither he, nor Mrs. Hamsley who occupied another room at the front of the house had been disturbed by the unusual incident.

The Hamsleys went to their home, from their place of business on Commerce Street, about one o'clock this morning they said.

Yalobusha Land Project Approved

JACKSON, Miss.—Approval of the Yalobusha Land Utilization and Land Conservation Project in Yalobusha County, Mississippi, was announced by H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service.

The new project involves the purchase this fiscal year of approximately 14,000 acres of eroded, gullied, and unproductive farm lands, as the first step in developing better farming methods over an area totaling 315,000 acres.

Representatives of an extensive problem area in the hill country of northern Mississippi, the project is concentrated in portions of Yalobusha county where consistent cotton farming for more than a hundred years has impoverished farm and farmer.

By purchasing the worst of the land in farms and retiring it to pasture and forest use, the Yalobusha Project aims to help develop a type of farming better suited to the character of the land. Originally covered by a dense forest of hardwoods and pines, the denuded hillsides today show the effects of severe sheet and gully erosion. In many places huge gulches with perpendicular walls 50 feet high are common.

The low yields of cotton have caused abandonment of cultivation on thousands of acres of severely eroded cotton land. Thousands of other acres almost as badly depleted, however, are being farmed by tenants and small landowners in a desperate and futile attempt to make a living.

Development of better farming methods, as a means of improving the agricultural economy of the area, will require the establishment of large farm units having considerable land in pasture. This will involve the relocation of several families now living in the area to farms better suited to crop production elsewhere.

The purchase program for the Yalobusha Project is planned for gradual expansion during several years until approximately 90,000 acres are bought for the purpose of effecting necessary changes in land use. Development work on this land will involve erosion control, fencing, pasture development, maintenance of existing forests, and establishment of new forests and the

Bronchial Coughs Need Creomulsion

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Cressote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Cressote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Cressote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Cressote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children. Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Ever hear that an about the turkey that lost his head about—Thanksgiving?

Grenada is the fastest growing city in the northern half of Mississippi. Keep the building activities going on. The is nothing that succeeds live Success it is often said.

Grenada's paving project now awaits only the approval of the President for WPA aid. So you fellows who have been cussin' the Mayor can cuss somebody higher up if you have to cuss somebody.

A certain radio station, in the South has gotten a power boost recently to 50,000 Watts. The management sends out a lengthy "free ad" to the press, thinking perhaps that editors are dumb enough to run it. At least that station has admitted one indisputable fact—radio is incapable of announcing its achievements to the public.

The publishers are being almost constantly asked: "who are you for in the Governor's race?" The answer: We are for Mississippi for Governor, meaning we do not desire to return to a state of affairs, wherein publishers and others will deem it necessary to continuously exclaim "Poor Mississippi."—In reality a man who will continue to build Mississippi Highways, and the State's industries on the foundation which has been so well laid while the State House has White and Harmony. Be it remembered that Mississippi had no harmonious efforts at the Capital for several decades previous to Hugh White's day.

HYMN OF PRAISE

By CLARENCE HAWKES

(The Blind Poet of Hadley)
There are reasons for Thanksgiving
In this festal day and year,
With our nation—tranquil living
In a world of hate and fear.
With dark war clouds over Asia,
And with Europe fighting, too,
Still no shadow dims our pleasure,
There's no war clouds o'er our blue.
For these things we thank Thee, Lord,
Gathered 'round the festal board.

There are grains and fruit-a-plenty,
So our people will be fed.
In this land of God's great bounty,
None will want for daily bread.
There are houses for the needy,
There is shelter for the poor.
Though his raiment may be needy,
Let no suppliant pass thy door.
Invite him in to meat, instead,
'T will turn your fare to heavenly bread.

There are schools in every valley,
There are churches on each hill.
To these bulwarks we should rally,
Social evils they will kill.
To the Pilgrims' God give glory
For those men who wrought so true.
In our hearts we keep their story,
All inspiring, ever new.
Forgive us, God, if we forget
And miss the mark that they have set.

Not in gold, and not with treasure
Do we build the finest things.
Dead the race that's drunk with pleasure,
Bowing in the courts of kings.
But in trust and faith and honor,
As the Pilgrims built of yore,
On the shores of time we garner
Things that live forevermore.
God help us then, Thanksgiving time,
To keep their faith that was sublime.

A MONKEY'S MEDITATION

A monkey musing in his cage
Upon the progress of the age,
Half whispered as I happened by,
"This evolution is a lie."

Surprised to hear him speak so plain,
I paused profounder truths to gain.
Unconscious I was there to heed,
He thus continued with his creed:

"For mortal man to try to trace
Descent from our illustrious race
Is rank injustice to our clan
The monkey much surpasses man.

"In bloody wars men butcher men,
They slander both with tongue and pen.

They cheat, they lie, they swear, they steal;
And wild with wine they rock and reel.

"They trample justice in the dust,
They loll in luxury and lust,
They sell their very selves for gold,
Their men, their women, young and old.

"They laugh at law, they twist the truth,
They crucify the dreams of youth.
Their hearts are hard as solid stone.
They worship God with lips alone.

"Man thus has left a trail of crime,
Too foul to sanctify with time.
The record of the human race
Bring flaming blushes to my face.

"The monkey leads the simple life,
Is loyal to his wedded wife.
No lady monkey yet, of course,
Has ever sought or won divorce.

"The monkey home is still serene,
The father king, the mother, queen.
The little monkeys, to, obey
Their parents in the good old way.

"We have no haunts of sin and shame,
No racketeers our ranks defame.
Our record stands an open book
At which the world has leave to look.

"No self-respecting monkey can
Admit himself akin to man.
By all the gods that reign on high,
This evolution is a lie."

The D. A. R. Are Sponsoring Contest

By J. S. VANDIVER
The Daughters of the American

Revolution are sponsoring the contest again this year on Good Citizenship Pilgrimage. This contest is open to the senior students in each public high school having a four year course. The students choose by vote three girls in their class who possess the following four qualities to an outstanding degree: Dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. I wish to call special attention to an address that will be delivered over station W. J. D. X., on November 21, from five to five-fifteen o'clock, by Mrs. E. C. Brewer, State Chairman of the Good Citizenship Pilgrimage. She will explain in detail this contest. I also suggest that we write to Mrs. Brewer for complete details in reference to the contest.

FUGITIVE SOUGHT MONTH FOUND IN COURTROOM

HULLS, Ore.—Police searched for Lawrence Monette, an alleged thief, for a month and then captured him in the court house here. Monette was wanted on live charges of theft. He came to the court house to listen to the trial of Anato'e Menard, who was arrested for the same thefts, and police identified him.

FORT HUACHUCA, Ariz.—Believed to be the oldest soldier, Sergt. Sandy Gardner, 70, has retired from active service 42 years after he first enlisted in the 25th U. S. (negro) Infantry. He served 30 years in the ranks.

Age At Death Set At 122

BUCHAREST—After enjoying the best of health until recently, Ilie Macanestao, a Rumanian reported to be 122 years old, died of pneumonia in the village of Onceshti-Giurgiu. He worked in the fields until he was 117.

CARD OF THANKS

The Rev. Topp and members of Sweet Home A. M. E. Church take this method to thank the adjacent churches and friends, also the good white friends of Holcomb, namely: Mr. V. Nason and Mr. Harris, Mrs. A. L. Jackson, Mr. Paul Gray and Mr. Chester Mar. for their most splendid support in helping us to raise the remaining part of our conference claim. We want you to know that we ascended the hill of success. May we say as the poet said on one occasion?

"The quality of mercy is not strained,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from Heaven
Upon the place beneath.
It is twice blessed:
It blesseth him that gives and him that takes."
Again we thank you once, twice and always.

Others who have taken larger advertisements, and are participating are R. H. Herring and D. D. Smith's Volunteer Store. The promotion, which Mr. McEachin conducted under the sponsorship of The Daily Star and Grenada Sentinel, was in the interest of the community and not in the interest of any specific group of merchants. If there are those who were not called upon, it was purely an oversight on the part of Mr. McEachin and not intentional.
